

Artist Annie Stegg & Her Signature Charvin Fine Oils Painting Sets

About Annie Stegg

Annie Stegg Gerard has a special love for the 18th century Rococo painters who have had a large influence on her own method. She finds inspiration in their imagination, and the dreamlike palette and lively brushwork that combine to create a wonderful atmosphere of enchantment. She believes that they sought to transport us to different worlds and fantastic places through their works. In her own work, known for its beautiful, enigmatic figures and lively creatures, Annie strives to depict this same transportive effect to the viewer. Her work is an exploration of the small hidden worlds that exist in our own backyards and the drama that unfolds with their unseen inhabitants. The secrets that are waiting to be discovered, and the mystery in a hidden moment of time. Annie exhibits her work in galleries and has done notable publishing work for clients such as Disney, Hasbro, Wizards of the Coast, Easton press, Ballistic Publishing and more. Her work is found in private collections all over the world.

FINE OILS

Elite Quality Paint! One Of The Most Honored And Time Tested Recipes For Oil Color Production

Charvin Fine Oil Colors use a combination of the finest in traditional and modern pigments, bound with a blend of linseed and non-yellowing poppy oils, for a smooth, creamy consistency and vibrant color.

Only the very finest pigments are selected for making Charvin colors. The color makers at Charvin expertly and slowly produce the oil color much in the same way that wine makers insure that the product will have a true character and lovely finish. It is this dedication to detail and the hands-on approach by the owners that makes these oil colors one of the world's great art supplies treasures.

by Professional Artist Annie Stegg

"When painting in oils, I prefer using paints with a highly concentrated, creamy consistency. This allows for excellent brush strokes as well as being ideal for glazing. The Charvin oil collection is mixed using a blend of linseed and non-yellowing poppy oils, giving them smooth, even handling, perfect for artists like me who like to build up an image in layers."
